Memorial Stones

January is a happening month at Lutheran High. Believe it or not, it is already time for families to re-enroll their students for the 2010-2011 school year. New students, primarily incoming freshmen, are enrolling and registering for the first time as well as signing up for their classes next year. How exciting!

In the months ahead, many parents will be deciding where to send their children to high school. Of course, we want these families and students to become part of the Lutheran High family!

Lutheran High's mission is To Prepare Christian Leaders—One Student at a Time. Our mission is not some simple slogan, but one that is inspired by the Word of God. Proverbs 22:6 tells us to "train up a child in the way he should go" so that "even when he is old he will not depart from it." As parents, we are reminded that our Heavenly Father seeks "Godly offspring" (Malachi 2:15), and that we are to raise our children "in the discipline and instruction of the Lord" (Ephesians 6:4).

One of my favorite moments in Scripture is in Joshua 4. In this chapter, God has the Israelites build a memorial of twelve stones so that their children will remember what God has done for them in helping them miraculously cross the Jordan River.

Just like the parents of Old Testament days, parents today are leaving memorial stones for their children too. In fact, children watch what their parents build and do much more than what they say.

One memorial stone that parents leave for their children today is a Christian education. Despite long drives or tuition costs, parents who chose to enroll their kids to Lutheran High are leaving a profound memorial stone in the eyes and memories of their children. "You mean an education at Lutheran High is that important to you Dad that we would spend that kind of money?"

"Sure is son."

"You mean we have to drive 15 miles one way to get to Lutheran High? Is that worth it Mom?"

"Sure is daughter."

Someday these kids will become adult, Christian leaders by God's grace. They will look at their high school diploma or receive their Lutheran High alumni newsletter and reflect on their parents' or grandparents' decision to send them to Lutheran High. What a powerful legacy and memorial stone that will be!

Blessed New Year to You!
